THE IMPORTANCE OF A FAMILY

It is important to emphasize the relevance of a family in our everyday life. A family offers encouragement, understanding, hope, comfort, advise, values, morals and faith. All these are important because they provide security and happiness during difficult times.

Family members teach and serve one another in addition to sharing life's joy and sorrows. The family provides a settling for personal growth for the children from their first moments of life. Children depend on parents and the family to protect them and provide for their needs. Parents and family form a child's first relationships. The family provided all members with security, identity and values regardless of age when members of the family feels insecure or unsafe they turn to their immediate family for help and solutions to their challenges they are facing, so families act as savers in all situations of life.

A family is the first school in which children received the basic values of life. The morals and values learnt in the family become guiding principles. These morals and values build their character and lay the foundation for their attitude, more so family values are protected and treated as a tool to eliminate corruption, hunger, inequality, crime and hatred in our society.

Hence peace and happiness prevails.
